

peternoyce photography

A combination of contemporary and traditional photography brings a refreshing approach to portraying the magic and joy of your wedding day.

As a professional photographer with over 25 years experience I will capture the informal, the spontaneous as well as the formal, ceremonial moments, capturing the feeling and emotion of your day - creating images to cherish.

Each of the wedding photography packages I offer is designed to give you a comprehensive selection of images of your day presented in a hard bound, press printed album. These images are selected by you from a DVD production of all of the images taken on your day - and this DVD is your's to keep.

Three options for photography tailored to suit your wedding day. Whether you want coverage of your whole day from home to the evening reception, the ceremony through to the wedding breakfast or are planning a register office wedding there is a package to suit you. Each includes everything from photography to completed hard bound album for a single price.
